

Alina Sadoveanu

Alina Sadoveanu is a recognized empowerment leader and innovative acquisition professional with over 15 years of procurement experience to include Chief Procurement Officer (CPO), Director of Procurement Operations, and Contracting Officer with unlimited warrant at several federal agencies. She became the CPO for the Executive Office for Immigration Review, at the Department of Justice in 2015. While serving she negotiated agreements to help expedite hiring immigration judges and court staff teams. She led procurements to create efficiencies at each court nationwide, optimized supply chain by reducing risk to the government and increasing the speed and value to taxpayers. Before this appointment, she joined General Services Administration, Acquisition Support Services in July of 2012 as the Division Director. She provided support to all federal executive agencies, state and local entities, and to foreign governments. While at GSA Sadoveanu worked on introducing innovative tools in procurement, reverse auctioning, life cycle contracting, and performance-based service acquisition and conducted Contracting Officers Representatives training. Ms. Sadoveanu led acquisition efforts at the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of Interior and oversaw award and administration of a multi-billion dollar strategic sourcing contract to complete hundreds of construction projects funded by the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009. The contracts she awarded played an important role in the White House job-creating initiative and in 2010 Sadoveanu was the Department of Interior nominee for Acquisition Excellence Award for innovation in acquisition. Ms. Sadoveanu participated in environmental clean-up efforts at Deepwater Horizon Oil Spill of 2010 in Mobile, Alabama. In August 2019 Sadoveanu participated as the keynote speaker at the Third Annual Australian Government Procurement Summit in Sydney Australia. She partnered with Australian colleagues again in 2020 to discuss supply chain challenges in the digital age. She is an expert in blueprinting and implementing new procurement systems such as Prizim, and Momentum and mapping user roles in accordance with OMB Circular A123. Sadoveanu is FAC-C Level III and FAC-COR Level III certified. She received her Bachelor's degrees in Political Science and Economics from the State University of New York at Plattsburgh.
